

RECYCLABLE COINS

Osborne Coinage, Cincinnati, Ohio, says that customers wishing to save the planet while promoting their company can do so with custom coins, medals and medallions that are fully recyclable. These highly memorable promotional items are easily recycled, making them ideal for all types of "green promotions." In their factory, every unused bit of metal is sorted by alloy, then segregated and shipped back to the mill or to a scrap metal firm that consolidates smaller batches for sale to recyclers. Osborne manufactures custom coins, tokens, medals and medallions from aluminum plus a variety of other materials like brass or nickel silver. They include the recyclable symbol on products upon customer request.
